

VERSANT ADVANCED PRACTICE NURSE FELLOWSHIP™

The 2010 Institute of Medicine (IOM)'s Future of Nursing Report called for the implementation of Transition to Practice programs for nurses after they have completed an advanced practice degree program.

Versant's Advanced Practice Nurse Fellowship™ is focused on providing a competency-based approach to Advanced Practice Registered Nurses (APRNs) transitioning into this new role.

Versant provides client partners a comprehensive and systemic approach to transitioning new primary care and acute care APRNs into practice through use of Versant's Competency-Based System™

- Measuring and evaluating clinical competencies throughout the career of each APRN
- Targeted education focused on remediating identified competency gaps
- Onboarding and transitioning APRNs into competent and confident practitioners
- Transitioning experienced APRNs into a new specialty area of practice
- Tracking outcomes to demonstrate, in real time, program ROI and effectiveness

THE VERSANT COMPETENCY-BASED SYSTEM

TM

Versant's Competency-Based System allows organizations to meet positive outcomes related to safety, organizational capacity, sustainability, and economic benefit.

- Patient Safety: Identifying and deploying standardized practices to eliminate avoidable errors.
- Organizational Capacity: Strategic development of the workforce's capability to deliver safe, efficient care.
- Sustainability: Removing outcome variations in highly complex systems to replicate results over time.
- Economic Benefit: Focusing on fundamental improvements in patient safety, organizational capacity, and sustainability.

The Versant Competency-Based System is highly adaptable and addresses the needs of a wide variety of health care providers and settings across the country.
